PROGRAM FEATURE:
ARTABILITY

The Artability program provides free art workshops both internally in People Incorporated’s residential and treatment programs and externally to community members who identify as having a mental illness. Each October, the program culminates in an art show for the public to promote mental health in the community, at which participating artists have the opportunity to showcase and sell their artwork. Not only does Artability provide a space for participants to tap into the creativity within themselves, but it presents art as a powerful tool for self-expression, healing, personal growth, and fun.

In 2023, the Artability program has experienced exciting transformations.

OCTOBER 10TH IS WORLD MENTAL HEALTH DAY
OPEN HOUSE & RIBBON CUTTING

We are so grateful to all the community members who joined us on September 26th for the Open House and ribbon cutting ceremony for our newest hybrid crisis and intensive residential treatment services (IRTS) center at 3633 Chicago Avenue. Minnesota Department of Human Services Commissioner Jodi Harpstead spoke about the revolutionary nature of People Incorporated’s hybrid model, and we were joined by representatives from KARE 11, MPR, WCCO Radio, and FOX 9. The 13-bed, single-occupancy program officially opens to clients on October 18th, 2023.

WHY I GIVE

“Having People Incorporated [during my son’s mental health crisis] was such a huge relief. What you stand for is so valuable, and I could never repay you. People Incorporated saved my son’s life. You are responsible for my son’s success. I will always give to People Incorporated, because you do something that nobody else dares to do.”

Kathie Doerr, People Incorporated donor since 1996

THE TRAINING INSTITUTE
Here at the Training Institute, things look different from what they were a few years ago. Prior to 2020, if you had a class to get to, you’d have fully dressed for the day, headed to a classroom in Eagan, and sipped on tea or coffee from a paper cup while waiting for class to begin. You’d be seated in a room with dozens of others, mostly People Incorporated staff. Maybe there would be a few people from other agencies, but mostly mental and behavioral health agencies. Join a class today, and you’ll likely be checking your email for a Zoom link and pouring coffee into your own mug while you wait for class to start. Throughout class, as people chime in and discuss their own situations, you may even realize that not everyone works in the mental or behavioral health field, or even human services, but you’re still all in a class together and the topic is relevant to employees from fire departments to public libraries to medical clinics.

Another change is that many classes are shorter. We recently created a Coffee Break series for busy leaders, which is a series of deep dives into specific small topics that are covered in our Developing Strong Staff class. We have had a great response to the new format, and in September, we’re running them all again. As the landscape of mental health education changes, so does the Training Institute.
